

UTAH VALLEY DIGEST

Join our community websites at my.heraldextra.com

PROVO

Courtesy photos

XanGo employees take the time to care

DAILY HERALD

XanGo employees participated in a Habitat for Humanity project as part of the company's charitable initiative Taking Time 2 Care, which provides each worker two hours of paid leave per month to volunteer at the charity of their choice.

Above: XanGo Founder and Board Member Joe Morton [pictured front, far right] joins dozens of company employees at a Habitat for Humanity project in Provo.

Right: XanGo Founder and Board Member Joe Morton [center with power drill] works with company employees to frame a house as part of a Habitat for Humanity project in Provo.

